Loop Flower Trim

Whenever you need a cute flower, think Baker's Cotton! This easy loop flower is fun to make using cardboard and straight pins as your flower loom. Use them on gifts, in your hair, to trim a tee or any way you please!

Flower measures 2½" (6.4 cm)

FLOWER

1. Cut a card board circle, 2½" (6.4 cm) in diameter. Draw lines dividing into 4ths. Then add 2 more lines dividing each section into 3 parts, like the face of a clock. Insert a ball head pin into cardboard at each line.

2. Wrap Baker's Cotton around pin at the 12 o'clock position; then down to the 6 o'clock pin.

3. Continue to wrap in a clockwise direction around entire circle: 1 o'clock, 7 o'clock; 2 o'clock, 8 o'clock, 3 o'clock, 9 o'clock; 4 o'clock, 10 o'clock; 5 o'clock, 11 o'clock.

4. Repeat the wrapping procedure two more times so that there are 3 wraps on each pin. Cut end leaving an 18" (45.7 cm) tail and thread it into yarn needle.

5. Referring to photo, take back stitches to hold petal loops together at center: Insert needle under 12 o'clock wraps from right to left and come up between petals.

7. Continue around in clockwise direction until all petals have been back stitched. Remove loops from the circle and pins.

9. With separate piece of Baker's Cotton and needle, sew button to center. Your Loop Flower is ready to use on a gift or however you desire.

6. Working in clockwise direction, come up in next space between petals.

8. Take a few small stitches at center to secure; this is the wrong side of your flower, so stitches won't show. Leave ends for attaching to gift.
